

Dr. J. Morris Princey, Vice Principal & Assistant Professor (SS), PG & Research Department of Chemistry has a rich teaching experience for about 2 decades. She has served as the Coordinator of the Rotaract Club of Holy Cross College from 2018-2022, during her tenure the club has won many awards for the illustrious services rendered to the society. She is also the Nodal Officer for Food Safety and Standard Authority of India (fssai) and for the Pudhumai Penn Scholarship Scheme. She is a Teaching, Training and Development Professional trained by the Asian College of Teachers, a Centre for Training & Professional Development.

Dr. Morris is a member of many Professional bodies like the Academic and Research Conclave, Professional Member of InSc. International Publishers, Life Member of Academic and Research Conclave and Bose Scientific Society. She has been the Resource person for various workshops, Orientation and Training Programs. She has published book chapters and research articles in many reputed journals and has participated in many national and international conferences, FDP programs, Orientation and Refresher Courses. She is also a Reviewer for many journals. She has been awarded Best Paper Awards for her research publications and has received Professor C.N.R. Rao Best Young Scientist Award, Best Supporting Co-ordinator Award of the Rotaract Club and Academic Excellence Award for the year 2022. Her fields of Expertise are Food Chemistry, Nano-Chemistry, Bio-polymers and Environmental Chemistry.